Festivals

Many of the temples in Kerala hold festivals on specific days of the year. A common characteristic of these festivals is the hoisting of a holy flag which is brought down on the final day of the festival.

Festivals locally known as utsavams are conducted by many temples mostly on annual basis. Temples that can afford it will usually involve at least one richly decorative elephant as part of the festivities. The idol in the temple is taken out on a procession around the countryside atop this elephant. When the procession visits homes around the temple, people will usually present rice, coconuts, and other offerings to it.

Onam

During Onam, Kerala's biggest celebration, Keralites create pookkalam (floral carpet) designs in front of their houses

Onam is a "harvest festival "celebrated by the people of Kerala and is a reminder of the state's agricultural past. It is a local festival of Kerala consisting of a four-day public holidays. Onam falls in the Malayalam month of Chingam (August–September)
